

TWO ASSASSINATIONS.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 28.—A serious wreck occurred on the Pan Handle railroad near Philadelphia cross-roads. A freight train going west was about to take the siding at that point, and another freight train going in the same direction ran into it, causing a general smash-up of cars and setting fire to a number of them. Three men, one of the train crew, are reported to have been hurt. Ten cars were burned and a number badly broken.

Jealousy from the reports of the State Treasurer the approaching Legislature will have a financial problem to wrestle with that will take up considerable of its time.

The mineral resources of Texas are almost unbounded and are but little developed. Her mineral lands are estimated at 20,000,000 acres and this vast area of wealth includes silver, iron, coal, lead and other minerals.

This Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle celebrated its one hundredth birthday by issuing an enlarged edition. It is in a more prosperous condition than ever and it is interesting to note the improvement steadily made during its life of usefulness.

SENATOR BECK'S speech on the silver question will probably open the eyes of some officials in high place as to the cause of the present "hard times." His speech should be read by every laboring man. It shows pretty conclusively that the much-fabled bond-holder is behind the present crusade against silver.

The "oldest resident" of Pike County, Pa., doesn't remember a time when bears were so numerous as they now are in that locality. They have become so plentiful that hunters have but little trouble in finding one almost any day. A big brain, so the story goes, actually entered a village up there recently and was shot down in the streets.

This suspension of silver coinage will hardly be accomplished by the present Congress. The South and the West come up almost solid against the suspension, and the Eastern and Middle States strongly favor it. The estimates give 143 Democrats and 32 Republicans in the House who oppose the suspension; and 39 Democrats and 91 Republicans who favor it.

This annual report of the Secretary of the Mason County Building and Saving Association has been received and will appear in to-morrow's issue. The Association was never in a more prosperous condition. At the election last Saturday night the old officers and directors were all re-elected for the coming year. They are all leading business men and their names are a sufficient guarantee that the affairs of the Association will be well managed.

WABE HAMPTON, Senator from South Carolina, evidently believes that members of the Senate and House were elected for some other purpose than to run round and solicit offices for their constituents, and for this reason he has introduced a bill making it a penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000, for any person to solicit or recommend, directly or indirectly, the appointment of any person to an office under the Government. His brother Senators looked upon this as a joke, but he, according to his own statement, never was more in earnest.

"THERE is no out-standing obligation of the United States, nor of any State, municipality, corporation, or individual which can not be legally and honorably discharged by the present standard and silver dollar. What right has Congress to deprive the debtor of that right by adding more silver to the coin than he agreed to pay, or by stopping its coinage so that he can not obtain it? It is as palpable a violation of a contract to increase the obligation of the debtor as it is to impair or reduce the standard value of the coin which the creditor stipulated in his contract should be paid to him. When Congress has once offered money and received the value thereof, and contracts are based upon it, the right to pay according to its terms can not rightfully or justly be taken from the people, and Senators and Representatives who deprive them of that right will have unpleasant explanations to make to the men whose burdens are increased by their votes."—Extract from Senator Beck's speech on the silver question.

THE ANNUAL report of the Eastern Kentucky Llanatic Asylum for the year ending September 30, 1885, has been received. It shows a deficit in the Treasury of $8,324.23 which with the deficit for the year 1884 makes the total deficit at the present time $11,962.33. "The institution seems to be getting deeper in debt every year, but from what cause has not been prepared to say. The expenditures for the past year exceed the receipts by the above sum $8,324.23, but over $6,000 of this was necessitated by the erection of the buildings ordered by the last Legislature. The appropriations for these buildings it is claimed was not half as much as was required for the work and the additions and improvements are left unfinished. This of course will necessitate additional appropriations by the coming Legislature. The report also shows that there were 584 patients in the asylum at the beginning of the year; 102 were discharged, leaving 565 under treatment, which is 40 more than the legal capacity of the institution.

CHRISTMAS IN LONDON.

THE OLDEST SHOPKEEPER REMEMBERS NO BETTER BOY INESS.

The Usual Good Cheer Prevailed With Pantomimes and Parties—At Drury Lane—Political—Farnell and Gladstone—Michael Davitt—Notes.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—It is the general opinion among the merchants of the present Christmas season has been the most profitable one they have experienced for many years. The sale of articles of luxury has been greater than ever before, and there has been apparently no let up in my even among the poorest classes. Railway traffic during the last fortnight has been very much increased, and the number of provincial purchasers visiting the metropolis has exceeded anything of the kind in any previous season within the recollection of the oldest shopkeeper.

The weather was foggy and sultry, but in spite of the unfavorable conditions the streets were thronged, the churches crowded and the usual Christmas good cheer prevailed. With one or two exceptions the Christmas pantomimes opened. That they were all a success goes without saying as the pantomime artists and pantomimes the adventures and hairbreadth escapes of Harlequin and Columbian, and the mechanical tricks and gorgeous scenery are ever welcome to the not too critical audience that look forward from year to year to the enjoyment of their favorite theatrical entertainment.

The putting of the Drury Lane theater has taken place. A grand dress rehearsal was given which, except in name, was in every respect a public performance. The audience was a brilliant one and many professional and artistic celebrities occupied boxes or seats in the parquette or dress circle. The pantomime was received with every manifestation of approval and will undoubtedly draw crowded houses until the managers see fit to withdraw.

At the clubs and other political news centers there was absolute stagnation. Nobody wanted to talk politics and very little information concerning the ideas, feelings or intentions of the various political leaders was obtainable. Mr. Farnell is as thoroughly satisfied that Mr. Gladstone intends to push through the next parliament his measures for Home Rule in Ireland that he no longer troubles himself with party intrigues or shows any interest in the rivalries of his opponents.

Michael Davitt's position continues to mystify the opponents of Home Rule, and many prominent Liberals have expressed great concern as to his future course. His calmness at a time when he is expected to become demonstrative is puzzling, and his unusual urbanity and his care to seize every opportunity to announce himself in perfect accord with the policy and wishes of Mr. Farnell have excited a general suspicion that definite promises of complete Home Rule have been given to both Mr. Farnell and Mr. Davitt are quietly waiting to see the promises fulfilled. Should absolute Home Rule in fact affairs be given to Ireland and no one would it would be immediately utilized as a lever to widen the breach and ultimately secure entire independence. Indeed it is said that Mr. Davitt in conversation with a prominent Radical last year insisted that a separate parliament for Ireland should be immediately established at Dublin and further declared that its first duty should be to sanction the organization of rifle clubs throughout Ireland, with a view of attacking the English, who for the struggle with England, which was sure to come.

CHRISTMAS SHOOTING.

Two Brothers Undertake to Run a Town and are Disabled.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—A telegram from King City, Missouri, gives an account of an exciting shooting affair at Union Star, a village seven miles from that place. F. M. Miller, marshal of the town, attempted to arrest two men named Hayter, who were at King City in the streets. The Hayters resisted arrest, and swore that the whole town could not take them. They mounted their horses and proceeded to raid the town in a westerly direction, flourishing their revolvers in a threatening manner. The marshal watched his chance and fired a shot, shooting one of the Hayters through the body, inflicting a mortal wound and dropping him from his horse. He also secured a drop on the other Hayter before he could fire. Miller brought the second man from his horse wounded in the leg. Great excitement prevailed in the little town during the evening and Christmas festivities, which had been previously arranged, were entirely suspended. The Hayters friends from the country, rushed in and threatened bloodshed and avowed their intention of having the life of the marshal, but the citizens took the side of the marshal and prevented them from carrying out their threats.

THE WHIRLING POLES.

The Church Hangers Make Another Outbreak—Raided by the Police.

DETROIT, Dec. 28.—Another outbreak among the Polish parishioners of St. Albert Catholic church, occurred shortly after morning mass. More than 4,000 people, over one-half of the congregation, were gathered outside the church discussing the report that Bishop Borgess had promised to be present, open the church, and settle all the troubles by giving back to the people their old pastor, Father Kolanski. The bishop did not appear, and the vast crowd marched to his residence. A committee was selected to notify him of the congregation's desire, but the inmates refused to admit the committee. The bishop escaped by the rear of his house. When the people learned of the bishop's flight, they became violent, and in a threatening manner proceeded to St. Joseph's church, where they supposed the priests were hidden. The police appeared at that moment, followed by another vast delegation of angry Poles. The latter joined their friends and proceeded 4,000 strong to the church. When St. Joseph's was reached a rush was made for the door but it was found locked.

A large man, with a commanding voice, suddenly appeared among the people, and in the Polish tongue counselled quiet. About half of the crowd proceeded homeward while the others returned to St. Albert's church, where at 5 o'clock a great mob made a sudden and savage attack upon the edifice. A large detail of police reinforcing the officers at the church, they resisted the assault and dispersed the rioters. The Poles again gathered at the house of Basil Lemke, on St. Auburn avenue. Lemke at the beginning of the trouble had been in the house, the adherents of Father Kolanski, and his home was fiercely attacked.

Men and women commingled and fought indiscriminately. A detachment swooped down on the mob, and the patrol wagons were soon loaded with prisoners. A large number of the principal rioters were arrested. Some of the men had pistol wounds. One of the principal rioters, was shot dead. The sight of the police and the killing of Leodowski subdued the mob and it was again broken up by the police. It is feared that the rioting will be renewed.

A large crowd assembled about the St. Albert's Catholic church, but dispersed without doing any damage.

MURDER OF HIS WIFE.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Thomas King, living at 239 Cologne street, brutally murdered his wife. During a quarrel he picked up a chair and beat out the brains of the unfortunate woman. Before his arrest could be effected King fled from the house. The neighbors say they saw him lurking in the vicinity. King is about 35 years of age, five feet eight inches in height, dark hair, clean shaven, and wore a dark coat.

LABOR TROUBLES.

DETROIT, Ill., Dec. 28.—The drivers employed in the St. John's coal mines here are on a strike for shorter hours. The men are working eleven and a half hours for a day's work, and think it far too much for the pay they receive, and hence they ask that their hours of labor be lessened. In consequence the miners are idle. The company has very little coal on hand, and the strike places them in a very tight place. It is generally supposed that the company will at once shorten the drivers' hours or put in new men, their coal can not well afford to let the works lie idle.

"THE OLD BULLETIN" TREE.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Dec. 28.—Allice Sampson, aged 91, an unmarried companion in the office of the Free Press, was crushed to death by a large Elm tree that was blown down in a heavy northeast gale. The tree was over one hundred years old and much decayed. It stood near the postoffice and has long been known as "the old bulletin tree," having for many years been used to post notices upon.

REV. SAM JONES.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—All arrangements are being made for the great revival work at Trinity M. E. church, which is to begin in two weeks, and will be led by Rev. Sam Jones and Sam Jones. Almost the degree of interest is manifested in the coming meetings, and there is every indication of at least thronged houses if not of a crowded pentecost's bunch. Both the revivals are now resting in their Georgia homes.

FATAL FIRE.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—Fire completely destroyed the saloon of John Haller, on Third street. While engaged in removing furniture from the second floor, the flames cut off all means of exit by the stairway, and Mr. Haller was fatally injured by jumping from the window. Loss on property about $5,000; insurance, $250.

THE CONDENSER.
The Fifth of the News in Brief for Hasty
Personal.

Joseph G. Miller, absconding contractor of Vincennes, Ind., has been heard from in New York in a letter severely denouncing his enemies. He left unfinished contracts aggregating $40,000.

A little four-year-old girl of Abasco
Jordan, near Vincennes, Ind., during her mother's absence, was burned to death by her clothes catching fire. Two years ago a similar fate befell a twin sister.

At Hopkinsville, Kentucky, W. T. Walker, was fatally injured while resisting arrest
for grand larceny. At the same place Wm.
Caldwell struck George Stevens through the neck with a pickaxe, killing him.

An encampment of tramps was attacked near Johnstown, Pennsylvania, by a band of negroes. After a spirited fight the tramps were driven from the field, losing one mortally wounded and another seriously injured.

The treasurer of Holmes county, O., who was recently beaten in a race for re-election,
is charged with making his enemies pay tax
delinquencies, while his friends are excused.
This is his manner of getting even with the public for his defeat.

Mrs. Frederic Knopf, of Wadsworth, near Parkersburg, W. Va., locked her two little children in this house while she went to a neighboring store to get Christmas presents.
In some way the house took fire and was burned down, consuming the little ones.

A big Christmas tree heavily loaded with presents and was candles at the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, suddenly took fire. The clothing of about twenty persons in the dense crowd around was in flames. But the fire was soon extinguished, and no one was seriously injured.

Silas E. Cheek, a real estate loan agent of Clinton, Missouri, is a defaulter for over one hundred thousand dollars. His victims are in large number eastern parties. His manner of obtaining money was to forge names
to bogus deeds of trust and imprint the recorder's seal upon the documents, which he could easily do, as he had access to the recorder's office at all times. He does this appearing all right he had no trouble in obtaining money on them.

King Milan is in constant danger of assassination. It is claimed that he was deceived as to the condition and strength of his army by false servants. Gallier, French minister of colonies and marine, has resigned. The entire ministry will probably soon follow suit. False teeth come to the front as the probable means of convicting a French mur-derer, one having been found in his garden and identified by a dentist as belonging to the victim. A German man-of-war is reported to have been sent to take part in the conflict between German and French sailors.

Ferryboat Collision.
New York, Dec. 28.—The two ferryboats
Chicago and New Jersey, on their way to Pennsylvania Railroad company, collided.
The Chicago, which was making her 6:05 a.
m. trip, was taken out of her course by the strong flood tide when nearing the dip at Cortland street, and despite the efforts of her pilot struck the New Jersey, which was just leaving on a trip to Jersey City. The New Jersey's steering gear was badly damaged and her hull received such a blow that for fear of a leak she was taken to the Hoboken docks for repairs. The entire heavy guard rail, three iron posts and most of the "hood" or wooten extension on the ladies cabin side of the Chicago, were broken to pieces, and the iron fence extending across the dock was also carried away. The Chicago was able to resume her trip after an hour, during which temporary repairs were made. Fortunately only a few people were on board the boat at the time of the collision and no one was injured. Had an accident occurred two hours later, there would undoubtedly have been a large loss of life.
